

OASIS sends an SOS for Haitian children

Santo Domingo.- The first message which Dominican Today received in 2007 is this urgent call for help from the head of a charitable organization. \

We publish it in its entirety in view of its urgency:

Message:

Dear Editor,

I'm reaching out to you because you have the power to make a difference. I would like for you to do a story on this organization. Our name is "OASIS for Children, Inc." OASIS is an acronym for Our Attempt at Saving Innocent Souls. It's an orphanage that has been opened to save the innocent children that are dying in Haiti everyday.

Donations have plummeted in the last 18 months, which has left us in a desperate financial situation. I don't need to spend time telling you about how horrible and desperate the situation is in Haiti.

There is several ways you can help, not just by making a donation. You can do an article on OASIS; that will help get the word out about this important work. I am not too proud to beg you for help to keep the doors of OASIS opened and to help me save more babies. Ignorance, poverty, and disease are destroying this generation of children.

These children's lives hang in the balance.

Help these children prevail to build a new future. We, unlike most of the world have not given up on Haiti. We still have hope. Please have hope with us. I feel this project is important enough for every newspaper, magazine, radio stations, etc. to want to cover it.

Call me for an interview and help spread the word about this great labor of love. Doing just that would help out so much. We are a non-profit organization so all donations are tax-deductible and go towards providing a true "Oasis" to a child in the midst of the desert of despair.

I would be more than happy to send you some more information. I can also send you copies of other newspapers that have covered us in the past. The time is now to help the children. To ignore is so easy. Don't take the easy way; it may cost a child's life. Remember, we don't have much time. Do it now. Please!
